Three Generations

Rooster's Beef is grown in Hopkins County, Kentucky. The beef cattle are pasture raised and grain finished. William and Becky Slaton, along with their children, Dean (age 14) and Lauren (age 12) operate Rocky Bluff Farm. Dean and Lauren are rapidly becoming third generation farmers. William's sister, Carolyn Slaton Hall is co-owner and is responsible for the day-to-day operations of Rooster's Beef. William and Carolyn's mother, Alice Slaton, is always there to lend a helping hand.

Our products may be purchased at the Hopkins County Farmers Market or by calling Carolyn directly at (270) 836-8250.

About Rooster's Beef

Rooster's Beef Sales is a family owned business. The company was named in honor of our father.

J W "Rooster" Slaton

Dad was an inspiration to all of us. He owned and operated a cattle farm for years. Dad was aware of our plans to start the company. However, when he was diagnosed with Leukemia and was only expected to live a short time, our plans were put on hold. Our Dad passed away on March 26, 2015. Naming the company in honor of our father, Rooster, is one of the most fulfilling decisions we have made.
